"Pure Syrah from the best blocks of the estate vineyard, this is dusty and detailed, with dark berry fruits, light herb, earth and cocoa. Balanced and long, it finishes with ripe and precisely etched tannins, putting a frame around the picture-perfect expression of Walla Walla Syrah." – Paul Gregutt

"This wine feels reticent at the outset, with a savory note of sun-dried tomato and smoke. With air the wine reveals a deep plummy core, dark fig and blackberry fruit marked by a charr note of tannin, suggesting a match for ribs off the grill." – Patrick Comiskey

"Lithe and easy-drinking, delivering a smooth-textured mouthful of blueberry and spice razzle-dazzle, showing its class by not going away easily on the finish. Drink now through 2011." – H.S.
