

2015 Frenchtown RED WINE
Columbia Valley

88 points - Stephen Tanzer, Vinous , October 2017

“Deep ruby-red. Aromas of cassis, blackberry, licorice, wild herbs and violet convey a slight crushed-fruit character as well as menthol and herbal nuances; suggests a wide range of ripeness. Dense, fat, rather inky wine with blackberry, blueberry and menthol flavors and a salty element. Finishes a touch tart, with slightly drying tannins. This wine is bottled during the summer following the vintage and then held back at the winery for at least six months prior to release.”
