

2016 Frenchtown RED WINE
Columbia Valley

Double Gold, Sip Northwest ,Best of the Northwest
www.sipnw.com, October 2018

"Long on fruit flavor and deeply saturated in the glass, this bold red blend opens with aromas of wild blackberry, licorice and a hint of spices. Primarily composed of Bordeaux varietals, the supple red bursts with flavors of bramble and black currant with a subtle wisp of savory herbs." – Sip Northwest Judges

"Named for Walla Walla's first non-native settlement, this is an entry-level blend of Bordeaux and Rhône varieties from valley-wide sources. It's big and it's red, with a waft of tobacco-leaf aromas holding together a wild-berry component. This it turns lean and sleek, with a tight and firmly tannic finish." – Patrick J. Comiskey

89 points, Stephen Tanzer, Vinous, www.Vinous.com,
November 2018

"Very spicy aromas of cassis, licorice and fresh herbs. Supple and distinctly spicy, with enough supporting sweetness of berry fruit to support its licorice and herb elements. Finishes with a fine dusting of tannins and good length. This would make a good by-the-glass pour for a restaurant." – Stephen Tanzer
